CONGRESS CONVENED MONDAY

World News Service
Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—Congress faced many important problems in the new session which has opened, and it is expected that the session will be a very critical one. The strike continues in the steel industry. Injunction proceedings and a subsequent conference have failed to settle the soft coal strike. There is another crisis in Mexico. Railroad legislation is needed to protect the carriers after their release by the Government, while a strike is threatened among railroad employees. By many the situation is held to present harder and more important problems than in the reconstruction days after the civil war.

The Senate leaders are confronted with the necessity of making a decision as to how they will notify President Wilson that Congress is in session and ready to hear from him. This is believed to be the first time in the history of the Government that on the meeting of a regular session of Congress a President was so seriously ill that he could not receive representatives of Congress. The usual practice is for each branch of Congress to pass resolutions for the appointment of a joint committee to visit the White House and notify the President of the organization of Congress and say that that body would be pleased to receive any communication he might care to send. But the illness of the President and doubt as to the wisdom of having a joint committee call on him in his sickness have raised a new situation. It is therefore likely that no joint-committee will call on the President, but that he will receive notification in writing.

Secret Service Work.

"Secret Service" in its narrow sense is the name applied to that bureau in the treasury department the duties of which as defined by law are to detect counterfeiting and to protect the president. The term "secret service" in its broader sense includes all of those agencies which detect violations of federal laws and which keep the government informed as to international relationships. Military intelligence is the chief secret service agency in the broader sense and it co-ordinates and uses all the lesser detective agencies of the government.

Silly Old Superstitions.

In the highlands of Scotland it is taken as a terribly unlucky sign if a dog should run between the bridal pair on their wedding day, and brides still tell the bees of their wedding and decorate the hives for the occasion, says the Philadelphia North American. In parts of England and Scotland there exists an ancient custom for which no one seems to know the reason, by which part of the wedding cake is broken over the head of the bride and the guests all scramble for a piece.

To Save Charred Documents.
Documents that have been charred by fire are rendered readable if colloidion is poured over the charred paper. In a few minutes this dries and a tough, transparent coating is produced through which the printing can be seen. Bank notes and other papers thus charred have been treated in this way with success.

KANSAS ASKS FOR FEDERAL TROOPS

World News Service

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 4.—At a meeting yesterday attended by eight hundred representative citizens of Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kans., at the former city yesterday a resolution was adopted requesting that Federal troops be sent to both Kansas and Missouri as a result of the situation caused by the nationwide coal strike and made worse by the local strike of railroad trainmen. It was asserted at the meeting that the two cities are virtually without coal and it was said that if additional coal was obtainable it would be practically impossible to move it because of the strike of the trainmen. It was declared at the mass-meeting that troops are needed for the protection of the men who would volunteer to take the places of the strikers, about 1,500 of whom left work last Saturday.

Speakers urged that Major Gen. Wood, commander of the Central Department of the army, be assigned to take charge of the situation. It was also decided at the mass meeting, that, in order to save coal, business houses in the two cities should not open their establishments until 9 A. M. and should close at 4 P. M., in addition all amusement places, and schools, and other public gatherings will be closed temporarily.

One of the leaders of the striking trainmen expressed the opinion that not a pound of coal mined by volunteers would be moved.

On Discarding the Old.

The great discard the old because it has been found insufficient or false, the small because it is old. While the former is influenced by reason, the latter is by disgust. Genius wants to do more than its predecessor; he who apes genius, merely something different.—Lessing.

Pleasures Coming Fast.

Merle was fond of bananas. When his father took him into his mother's room to see the new brother that had arrived the night before the child was given a banana as he left the door. "Gee," he cried delightedly; "a new brother and a banana, both the same day!"

D. E. Greene of Caruthersville, government statistician, reports that in Pemiscot county there have been 6,934 bales of cotton ginned up to November 14, 1919, in comparison with 10,706 for the same period last year.
